RESUME

Hello, I'm Halil. I started programming when I was 10 years old. Also in my age 9, I was attracted in electronics and technology. I started with C# first but it was heavy for me and I gave up. Instead I started with Arduino. Made every single thing possible that I can make with the possibilities till my age 12. Then I decided to create a final project with it, a voice assistant but unluckily it failed for Arduino's capabilities. So, I found a new card named Raspberry Pi which is very popular in the Internet of Things/Embedded Systems which is actually a working computer with 40 pinouts. I didn't understand how to run it at first and started to web development too. Then this time, high school entrance exam appeared and I just postponed it. After the exam I wasted whole summer with playing games but in high school I really learned about web too much. Actually, pandemic was a great advantage for me. I learned a lot in the pandemic and I freelanced, I made thousands of TRY revenue in in a very short time. After that, I started working at a hosting company named Redoya, it was great experience with the servers and I've left because I think I don't get enough for my hard work. Now I'm freelancing and earning too much more.

TOOLS

Back-End & DevOps: I use micro-services architecture in my nearly all project including the freelance. It's like a standard for me. I'm using NestJS framework for back-end with GraphQL, Postgres and PrismaJS. Using refresh tokens for auth. Using NodeJS & Docker. I also made an auto-scaling project before, deployed it in the AWS platform and started learning & comparing other platforms. So I have some experience on cloud platforms too. I prefer using Figma FigJam or ExcaliDraw for drawing diagram of the project.

Client-side/Front-End: For designing and prototyping I use Figma. I use VueJS with Vuesax for making web apps. For the smaller projects I prefer Svelte with Tailwind CSS, it's ~21x lighter than Vue.

Cross-Platform Application: I used Cordova & ElectronJS frameworks for making desktop applications and made a few apps with it before. Also made very simple mobile applications with Cordova when I was learning. In the future, I plan making apps with the Vue Native/Svelte Native. Also to connect the server I always use http/s for reliability and security.

Name Generator

Open Source

NAME GENERATOR

We wasted so much time about finding a name which is not taken. So we decided to make an open source tool that creates creative (weird) names for us. It will also check if the domain is not taken in the future.

ASSISKY

A tool for translating speech-to-text in a channel of a Discord server. Very useful for making assistant Discord bots.
